MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

SUBJECT : Kirkpatrick Request Regarding Language Specialists

1. Reference your 17 February note and Lyman Kirkpatrick's 10 February request, I will give you some suitable names shortly. (We want to get their okay first.)

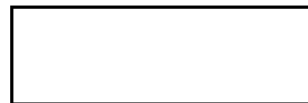

2. In the meanwhile, you may wish to tell Kirkpatrick that much of what he would want the language specialists to search out and translate has already been gathered from open sources and resides in Operations Directorate files. For example,   Special Assistant to C/SE/CI, maintains files on Soviet diplomats who have been PNGed.  RA/CI, may have additional unclassified materials.  RA/CI, before his retirement also collected information on Soviet intelligence translated from open sources by FBIS. Both  have expressed their readiness to discuss these materials with you if you wish.

The attached letter to me from Lyman Kirkpatrick is relatively self-explanatory. The languages in which he is particularly interested are Portuguese, Spanish, Arabic, Chinese, Russian, and French. If you know of any individuals who might be so interested, and will furnish me their names and addresses I will forward them on to Kirk.

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

February 10, 1976

Mr. John F. Blake

Dear Jack:

I enclose some material sent by [redacted] which you may wish to have Security look at. For some reason I received a complete duplicate set of the same material. I did not acknowledge.

As I mentioned to you over the phone I am in the process of finishing my book on the Russian intelligence service. With the dual motive of making it a better and more interesting book than Barron's KGB and to provide an incentive for its publication abroad, I am doing a chapter or section on each major country of the world where there has been any Russian intelligence or political warfare activity since 1918. What I would like to have in the book is a roster of all Soviet personnel who were known to operate in each country, and of all indigenous personnel who were identified as Russian agents.

It occurred to me that the Agency might know of some language specialists (retired or unemployed) who might be interested in working on an hourly basis in the Library of Congress researching from national newspapers and/or periodicals. This would be out of my pocket so it is not a sizable amount that is involved. I will provide some basic leads and material to work from so it will not be a case of operating from scratch. Any assistance you can provide will be appreciated.

I imagine you are now hip-deep in Bush briefings, but maybe now the hearings are over the Congress will leave you alone and fight among themselves.

Rita joins me with love to you, Fran and the girls. Sic semper tyrannus.

Kirk
